

Friday, 11 May 2018 - Training Agenda

10:00-10:30	Presentation of the Project and study programme. Introductory lecture - Natural disasters in the Republic of Srpska.	Mile Sikman, assistant professor, Director of centre for police education Banja Luka
10:30-11:00	Presentation of mobile application for alarm on growth level of the river.	Zoran Gajic, General Manager at EXIT IT Business Support
11:00-11:30	Earthquake as natural disaster.	Zdenko Tupajic, Section for civil protection Chief, Prnjavor municipality
11:30-11:50	Coffee break
11:50-12:30	Torrential streams. Landslides and erosion as natural disaster.	Radislav Tomic, full professor, University of Banja Luka, Faculty of Natural Sciences and Mathematics Novica Lovric, senior assistant, University of Banja Luka, Faculty of Natural Sciences and Mathematics
12:30-13:10	Flood as natural disaster. Floods in the lower Vrbas area.	Slavica Maksimovic, senior associate in teaching, University of Banja Luka, Faculty of security science Aleksandar Majic, senior assistant University of Banja Luka, Faculty of Natural Sciences and Mathematics
13:10-13:40	Drought as natural disaster.	Milica Sikimic, assistant, University of Banja Luka, Faculty of security science
13:40-14:00	Coffee Break
14:00-14:30	Institutional framework and legal acts.	Predrag Ceranic, assistant professor, University of Banja Luka, Faculty of security science
14:30-15:00	Emergency management and acting of the citizenship – The role of the police and military structures in disasters.	Darko Paspalj, assistant professor, University of Banja Luka, Faculty of security science
15:00-	Joint exercise of providing first aid at risk of flooding (resuscitation), at risk of an earthquake (stroke order).	A group of students of Faculty of Security Science